ENGLIT 365

IMAGINING SOCIAL JUSTICE

Spring 2027

Wednesdays: 1:00-3:30 PM (including transport approx. 11:00-5:00)

Interested in social justice? Looking for a Gen Ed relevant to life and to careers in law, social work, public policy, urban studies, arts, or education?

Pitt students and incarcerated students learn together

Together Pitt students and incarcerated students at the State Correctional Institution, Somerset, PA will study drama, fiction, poetry, and memorials that offer different ideas about what constitutes justice, how to achieve it, and what a more joyful and just world might look like. Most classes will be held at State Correctional Institute, Somerset, about 1 hour away. Transportation provided. We will follow the national Inside-Out educational model.

Satisfies Gen Eds in Literature, Writing, Diversity,
MCSI-Sustainability Related,
SCI-Polymathic Contexts: Humanistic GE

Previous student testimonials!

→

Limited seats! Permission of instructor required Contact: spuri@pitt.edu