

BEST PRACTICES FOR ASSESSMENT INTEGRITY

In-Person Workshop

Wednesday, Oct. 21st

3:00–4:00 p.m.

140 Thackeray Hall

Offered jointly by

CGS Online Learning

Dr. Jeff Aziz, Assistant Dean for Academic Integrity

Exams serve different purposes across disciplines and courses. They may assess knowledge, measure competencies, standardize assessment, support accreditation requirements, or ask students to apply what they know.

This workshop offers a practical look at how assessment design can support academic integrity while providing meaningful evidence of student learning.

What We'll Explore

- Support academic integrity through design
- Strengthen online and face-to-face exams
- Use effective question types and formats
- Explore alternatives to traditional exams

Questions & Discussion

End the session with an opportunity to ask questions and share assessment challenges.

Space is limited. Scan QR code to RSVP.
